We went from New Marlborough to Saratoga in the State of New York and to fort Edward and Fort Ann. We were out in this service between Eleven and twelve weeks and were engaged in Scouting—We had a skirmish during this service between one main guard & a main party of the enemy between Fort Ann and Sandy Hill near what is called Morse's Mill. Our guard was stationed at Noses Mill. During this service I was in Colonel John Ashley's Regiment of Sheffield.—We had no captain—Eli Harman of New Marlborough was one Lieutenant. After we had been out twelve weeks lacking three or four days Colonel Ashley went home with his Regiment & I went home also and was dismissed.—I received no written discharge.

I do not know of any person living who can testify to this part of my service in the Revolutionary War.

In the month of September or October in the year 1778 I was at New Marlborough & there was another alarm that the Indians were coming down from the North & the Militia were ordered out and every man was required to have a horse.—I procured a horse and volunteered and went out as a private in Colonel John Collar's Regiment of New Marlborough—we had no captain of the company I was in—Reuben Beman of New Marlborough was our Lieutenant—we started from New Marlborough and came to Stillwater in the State of New York and we remained there five weeks lacking a day or two and were then ordered to go home. We had no skirmish or engagement during the service. I was discharged with the rest of the Regiment and went home again. I received no written discharge and do not know of any person living who can testify to this part of my service.

In the month of October in the year 1779 I was at New Marlborough and in the last mentioned month enlisted at that place as a private for three months—I cannot recollect the name of the Colonel of the Regiment—Adam Casson was the Captain of the Company I was in—He was of New Marlborough—Zenas Kellogg, of Sheffield was our Ensign —David Tracy of New Marlborough was our Orderly Sergeant—I cannot recollect the name of our Lieutenant—the Regiment went from New Marlborough to Hudson in the State of New York and from there we marched to Albany and remained at Albany in the Barracks until the three months for which we enlisted had expired— During this service we had no engagement or skirmish. I do not know of any person living who can testify to this part of my service.
