I again in the year 77 volunteered for six months under Capt. Smith at Kings District and marched to Ticonderoga this three weeks was defeated by Burgoione Army and was obliged to retreat back to Saratoga on our retreat in Hubberton we had a small skirmish with the enemy and lost some of our men but fortunately I received no wounds we then retreated to Saratoga where we met the enemy with courage, and had a desperate battle.

I was one that helped to pull General Arnold from under his horse when he received a shot from the enemy his horse fell dead and fell on the General's leg and I helped extricate him.

In that Battle I discharged 60 rounds at the enemy and my gun became hot and as soon as it was cool I discharged 60 rounds more at which time it became dark and the Brittish gave back. We maintained the ground and in Sept or Oct had the pleasure of seeing the final resignation of Burgoine's Army. I was then discharged and returned home to Albany Kings District where I lived about four years and had the misfortune to have my house burned and all my discharges in it together with the rest of my household goods and papers.
