End Notes—S.43027—Thomas Moor

1. Thomas has this confused as to what regiment this captain belonged to. Daniel Williams was originally appointed captain on May 11, 1780 in Lieutenant Colonel Commandant Albert Pawling's Regiment of New York State Levies. The company in late May and early June were stationed at Fort Edward. By July Williams was transferred to Colonel Morris Graham's Regiment of New York State Levies. It is not clear if only Captain Williams was transferred or if the whole company was transferred. There appears if the whole company was transferred. There appears to be no muster roll for Captain Williams' Company in Pawling's Regiment. There is only one muster roll for Captain Williams' Company in Colonel Graham's Regiment. It is dated Albany September 9, 1780 and Thomas's name is not on it. FROM: Revolutionary War Rolls 1775-1783, Series M-249, Roll 72, folder 75, National Archives, Washington D.C. A Robert Moor also gave testimony for Thomas's service for 1780 but did not state his relationship with Thomas. Robert's name is not on the muster roll. One reading Robert's pension application (S.43036) He states "he served in the same company until July and then put in a company commanded by Captain Norton." Thomas also testified in Robert's pension application and states the same thing. I had already found a Robert and Thomas Moor serving as privates in Captain John Davis' Second Company in Lieutenant Colonel Commandant Frederick Weisenfel's Fourth New York Continental Regiment. The testimony in Robert's application verifies what I had already uncovered. Robert and Thomas both enlisted on July 1, 1780 for 5 months. Thomas was discharged on December 15, 1780 but Robert deserted on October 24, 1780. In 1780, and 1781 and 1782 levies were recruited to serve out a portion of their term in Continental Regiments. The Fourth New York in 1780 had recruited at least 30 men from the levies to fill their ranks. The regiment was in New Jersey and Captain Nathaniel Horton had been set to New York State as a recruiting officer and by August he had over 80 recruits for the regiment. The regiment went to West Point, New York and eventually was sent to Fort Schuyler, New York for winter quarters and arrived there by November 22, 1780.
2. There never was a 13th New York regiment. There were never more than 5 New York regiments from November 21, 1776 to January 1, 1781. On January 1, the 5 New York Regiments were consolidated into two regiments.
3. Anthony Whelp was appointed captain on April 27, 1781 in Lieutenant Colonel Commandant Marinus Willett's Regiment of New York State Levies. Thomas is listed on Captain Whelp's Pay Roll for £ 18. . 13. . 4 that was due him for his service. The money when paid was delivered to John Thornton. FROM: Revolutionary War Rolls 1775-1783, Series M-246, Roll 78, folder 173, National Archives, Washington, D.C.
4. The Battle of Germantown, Pennsylvania was fought on October 4, 1777. Thomas does not state any service for that year or state although he was 16 in 1776 and eligible for military service. On examining Robert's pension application he states that he enlisted in March of 1777 under Lieutenant Howe for a year in Colonel Butler's Regiment at Wyoming.
