[To accompany bill H.R. No. 282

FEBRUARY 4, 1836.

Mr. Lay, from the Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, made the following REPORT:

The Committee on Revolutionary Pensions, to which was referred the petition of Stephen Talmage,

That it appears, from an examination of his petition and papers, that the said Stephen Talmage was a revolutionary soldier and claims pay [sic] under the acts of 1818 and 1820. That he first enlisted into the company commanded by Captain John Davis, in the regiment commanded by Col. Henry B. Livingston, in the line of the State of New York on the continental establishment, in April, 1776, at Bridge Hampton, county, of Suffolk, and State of New York, for the term of nine months, and is not seventy-five years old. He served out his time, and was regularly discharged at Fort Montgomery, in New York. That he again went into the service for two months longer; and continued to serve at the said Fort Montgomery under the command of General George Clinton until the end and expiration of the said two months, which was in March in the year 1777, when he was discharged. That the reason he never made an earlier application for a pension, was because he had hoped to live by his industry until the infirmities of old age and poverty compelled him to petition for relief. The papers have all been before the Commissioner of Pensions, who pronounced the proof of service to be made out satisfactorily; but disallowed the claim, on the ground that he had not complied with the rules of the Department, as to the value of his property. The paper, furnish the most satisfactory proof of the poverty of the petitioner, and the statement [statement] of the petitioner is fully corroborated by the testimony of credible witnesses.

Proof of service.

Nathan Fordham swears that he was a soldier in the army of the United States in the year 1776, in a regiment commanded by Col. Henry B. Livingston, and stationed at Montauk, and continued in such service until March 1, 1777, being thirteen months. That he knows Stephen Talmage, the petitioner, and that he was in the service, and served in the same regiment and company, with said Fordham. That he verily believes said Talmage did serve the same length of time in the said company and regiment that the deponent Fordham, did.

Blair & Rives, printers.

Sylvanus Halsey, another witness, testifies that he was a soldier in the revolutionary war in the year 1776, in the company commanded by Captain John Davis in the regiment commanded by Col. Henry B. Livingston. That witness served in said company from March in that year till the last day of December. That the petitioner, Stephen Talmage, served in the same company with witness, Halsey, from March aforesaid until the first day of January following, to the personal knowledge of witness. That the witness left service, and that said Talmage volunteered to stay two months longer in the service, which he did, as the witness understood, and believes that the said Talmage did not return until March following.

Abraham Sherril, of the town of East Hampton in the county of Suffolk, testifies that he is seventy-nine years of age, on the 6th of November, 1833. That he was a soldier in the army of the revolution in the company commanded by Captain John Davis, in the regiment commanded by Col. Henry B. Livingston, for the term of nine months, in the spring of 1776, thinks in April, and served until January following.

That Stephen Talmage, the petitioner, was, during the whole term of the service of witness, a private soldier in the same company and regiment with witness, and was regularly discharged with witness at Fort Montgomery, New York. That, after their discharge, at the solicitation of General Clinton, the said Stephen Talmage and witness continued to serve two months longer, and they left the service together, being regularly discharged. Two of the aforesaid witnesses, Fordham and Halsey reside in the same town and country with the petitioner, and the third, Sherril, in the town adjoining, and in the same county, and are all certified to be men of unimpeachable truth and veracity.

The committee are of opinion that the petitioner does not come within the provisions of the acts of 1818 and 1820; but is, under the act of 1832, entitled to pay for eleven months' service, and have reported a bill to that effect.
